

DOUBLE TRAGEDY ACROSS BAY

BEAUTIFUL GIRL IS MURDERED.

Miss Josephine Meade, a Los Angeles School Teacher, is Shot by the Man She Rejected—Shocking Crime in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 15.—A double tragedy has just occurred at Bush and Laguna streets in which two lives were sacrificed. An unknown man shot and killed Josephine Meade, a young woman, and then killed himself. It is believed that the couple came here recently from Los Angeles.

The tragedy occurred shortly after noon when Miss Meade, who was going to her boarding-house at 1819 Laguna street, was approached by a stranger and who, after a few words drew a pistol and fired a bullet into the girl's head.

He walked a few steps and then turned the weapon on himself, sending a bullet through his brain.

Miss Meade, it is learned, came here from Los Angeles three weeks ago to finish her education at the University of California.

SOUTHERN GIRL.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 15.—But one young woman of the name of Josephine Meade is known in Los Angeles. The city directory gives her occupation as that of a teacher and her boarding-house as 200 Conpton avenue. Inquiry at the offices of the Board of Education developed the fact that Miss Meade has been employed in the public schools here and that she resigned her place about two weeks ago. Nothing is known of her movements since that time.

Josephine Meade was well known here as a teacher in the public schools. Up to near the close of the school year in 1907 she was employed in the Twentieth-street school. She resided at 1900 Conpton avenue, boarding with a private family.

Miss Meade's departure from Los Angeles was caused by the unwelcome attentions of a man whose name has not yet been learned.

For several months he persecuted her and insisted that she marry him.

When she refused he threatened to kill her and in fear of her life she gave up her position and left for the East.

At the office of the Superintendent of Schools it was stated that Miss Meade had been carried on the list of teachers since 1904, her leave of absence being extended from time to time.

It was understood at the office that she returned from the East and later went to San Francisco.

Last Monday at the regular meeting of the Board of Education Miss Meade's resignation was tendered and accepted.

She had written from San Francisco, stating that she would not be able to return to Los Angeles.

JAPAN WILL INSIST ON FAIR PLAY

Russia Must Keep Her Promises or There Will Be War.

Japanese Statesmen Are Proceeding in a Firm, Quiet Way.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—A dispatch to Reuters from Tokyo dated yesterday says: Important cabinet meetings were held yesterday and today, and the impression in well-informed circles is that Japan will insist on Russia's fulfillment of her promises.

STATESMEN CONFERENCE.

YOKOHAMA, Oct. 15.—The veteran statesmen's conferences with the cabinet at Tokyo Tuesday, while significant of a crisis, are understood to have been pacific, confirmed the prior conferences before the throne June 23, stipulating the integrity of Korea and China's retention of Manchuria, with a recognition of Russian rights.

These conferences indicate that the negotiations are progressing towards a pacific solution of the problem.

Baron de Rosen, the Russian minister to Japan, and Baron Komura the Japanese foreign minister, held their fourth conference yesterday. It lasted four hours.

M. Lesarr, the Russian minister to China, has informed Prince Ching, head of the Chinese foreign office, that if China rejects the demands of Russia the occupation of Manchuria by the Russian troops will be permanent.

The Russian forces at New Chwang have been reinforced by two battalions.

PRECAUTION NECESSARY.

LONDON, October 15.—The newspaper comment is quiet, but the sentiment, The Nihil-Nihil, the most powerful paper, believes the St. Petersburg government is innocent of the bellicose actions of the Russian agents in the Orient. It urges, however, the necessity for precaution, because the ambition of Russia's agents not infrequently precipitates hostilities.

The Jiji, also an influential paper, maintains that the only hope of peace lies in Russia's fulfillment of her promises.

PREPARED FOR WAR.

PARIS, October 15.—Official dispatches from St. Petersburg say that the Russian Ministers of War and Marine have announced that while not wishing to make any move likely to precipitate hostilities in the Far East, yet both departments of the government wish to have it known that they are completely prepared to meet any eventuality.

Official advices from Japan and China show that the negotiations between Russian Minister Baron de Rosen and the Foreign Office continue, but their status is not disclosed.

In the meantime the official here have been informed of the progress of the commercial treaty between China and Japan, which may have an important bearing on the Russian-Japanese situation. The treaty opens Mukden, the capital of Manchuria, and one other point to Japanese commerce. China's opening of the Manchurian country to Japan while Russia has not yet evacuated Manchuria is considered significant and as likely to ameliorate the difficulties.

OPPOSED TO WAR.

ST. PETERSBURG, October 15.—A dispatch received from Port Arthur says the advices from Tokyo show the feeling in Japan to be more tranquil and that the report of extensive preparations for war are denied. The Japanese War Minister has requested the newspapers to be more circumspect in their utterances.

The Port Arthur official newspapers reiterate the impossibility of Russia evacuating Manchuria while the rebellion continues in China, and they emphasize the belief that the Mikado and the Marquis Ito are both opposed to war.

JOSEPH BONETTI, THE ALLEGED ANARCHIST.

HE WILL BE TRIED UNDER THE ANARCHIST LAWS.

Considerable interest is attaching to the case of Joseph Bonetti, a Swiss-Italian, confined at the County Jail on a charge of assault to murder. Bonetti had only been in the country fifteen days when he assaulted the Town Marshal of Livermore and gave him an ugly slash in the neck with a knife.

The matter was brought to the attention of the Federal authorities and United States Immigration Commissioner Hart H. North has sent on a detailed account of the affair to the Secretary of Treasury at Washington with a view to having the man deported under a section of the recent strict immigration law passed by the last Congress, which provided that any person who became a public charge within two years after entering this country could be sent back to the country from whence he came.

Bonetti comes up for arraignment tomorrow morning before Judge Ellsworth and it is probable that a representative of the Federal Government will also be present. In an interview, through the medium of an interpreter, Bonetti stated to a TRIBUNE reporter this morning that his home was close to the boundary line between Switzerland and Italy. He is 28 years of age and says that he has an uncle living near Livermore and another in this city, who is employed in connection with the cemeteries here.

In regard to the crime with which he is charged, Bonetti said that he remembers nothing about it. He had been drinking with some companions, and that after he was taken into custody they told him that he had cut a man.

In explanation of this, the interpreter stated that in their home countries wine is not as plentiful as it is here and that a glass or so a day is about all that the workmen can get. When they come to this country they are able to get all that they want and often go to an extreme in the matter.

Bonetti says that at home he was a house-builder and mason, most of the houses there being built of stone.

WOMEN DENY THE CHARGES.

Miss Tillie Buttner Says She Did not Do High Kicking.

Declare That Mr. Lloyd Was a Proper Man at Home.

The monotony of reading family gossip in letters in the contested will case of C. R. Lloyd was broken this morning by rather snappy denials of alleged improper conduct on the part of the decedent with respect to the Japanese, servant, and Miss Tillie Buttner, as charged by Miss Margaret Boxall, a self-admitted victim of Lloyd's attentions.

The Japanese young woman gave the name of Ryu Katow and did not appear in elaborate headress with balloon hairpins and kimono, but in a garb of white and Gainsborough hat of prodigious dimensions, imperfectly concealing her glossy jet black hair. She spoke English unusually well and in a snapping manner denied the charges.

Miss Buttner, who said she lived at 865 Laurel street, Alameda, was less picturesque, being attired in a suit of black which had lost its luster. She was slight, with prominent features and about 24 or 25 years of age. Her denials were so contentious and indignant. The charges against her were

SEWARD TELLS OF EMPLOYERS AND STOCKS.

FORMER DIRECTOR TELLS HOW "DUMMY" STOCKS ARE MANIPULATED.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—When the ship-building investigation was resumed today Frederick Seward, formerly one of the directors of the ship-building company, and an employee of the Corporation Trust Company, was recalled to the stand. He became a director of the United States Ship-building Company in New Jersey, the quest of Mr. Douglas Alexander and Green. The witness could not say why Douglas wanted him to join. The witness said he had acted as an incorporator for fifty to seventy-five companies which were employed by the Corporation Trust Company. He had acted as director of the ship-building company as long as to the circumstances attending the issue to him of a temporary certificate of stock upon which he qualified as a director. The purpose of the extended showing as to the acts of the so-called "dummy" directorate formed in New Jersey when the ship-building company was first organized has not yet been disclosed, but it is said that the bondholders of the receiver may attack the legality of the acts of the directors. These acts include the increase in the capital stock and the acquisition of the constituent companies. The witness said that he personally paid nothing for his share of stock, and he did not know if anyone else had paid for it. He understood, however, that the share of stock belonged to him. He understood the name of stock in blank and surrendered it to one of the employees of the Corporation Trust Company, saying he was a director. He did not know what became of it.

REPRIMANDS FOR COUNSEL.

LAWYERS WASTE TIME IN MILLER AND JOHNS' BRIBERY CASE.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Oct. 15.—The court-room was crowded when the trial of Miller and Johns, charged with conspiracy and bribery in the postal cases, was resumed today. The Government continued its evidence. The emphatic rulings of Judge Thompson, especially on cross-examination, against taking up time with incompetent testimony, were repeated and at times counsel for the defense were reprimanded.

C. A. G. Christianity, who was the first assistant attorney in the office of the Assistant Attorney-General for the Postoffice Department, when Miller was the second Assistant District Attorney of the office, testified to all the presentations and considerations of the case of John J. Ryan & Company, the turf commissioners, who had been using the mails in "bookmaking." He did not know of all the correspondence between Miller and Ryan or the latter's attorneys. Miller did not show him the reports of the inspectors that recommended that a fraud order should be passed against the use of the mails by Ryan's concern.

On cross-examination by Russell, the witness said Ryan's attorneys came with the highest recommendations and Miller and Hoovener assisted him (Christianity) in considering the case of Ryan & Company. He did not know that Miller had ever recommended a fraud order in the Ryan case. After Ryan appeared with his attorneys before the witness there was no agreement at that time to dismiss the case and allow Ryan & Company to continue business. Christianity's recommendation was that the decision was contingent upon a successful report of the inspectors. The witness was shown the record-book of his office in describing the case had been dismissed and he could not tell the people could bestow upon him. Miller's reports to him were in accordance with those of the inspectors.

SHOT GIRL HE WAS TO MARRY.

BETTE, Mont., Oct. 15.—Miss Helen Kelly, aged 15, was shot and killed in her room in the Dakota block this morning by Albert Beckmann. Beckmann claims he advanced the girl $300 to buy a trousseau. They were to have been married, he said, but she changed her mind. Beckmann brought suit to recover the money but lost his case.

Just at daylight he went to her room and knocked. Thinking it was her brother and the girl fell dead. She was carrying a lamp, which exploded and set fire to the clothing and the furniture. Firemen extinguished the fire after the boy had been slightly burned. Beckmann escaped. He will probably be lynched if caught. The Kelly girl came here only a few weeks ago from Ireland.

SHOOTS HUSBAND BY MISTAKE.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—While searching for burglars last night Herbert L. Butler of Austin, was shot and seriously wounded by his wife. The couple had armed themselves. Upon discovering the cut lines of a person in the darkness, the wife opened fire, and her husband dropped to the floor in agony. There were no burglars in the house.

ACCUSED FATHER OF MURDER.

CHICAGO, October 15.—Frank Pavlik created a dramatic scene in Judge Clifford's court today by pointing an accusatory finger at his father and declaring that the latter was guilty not only of wife-murder, but also of parricide.

The murder of his mother is not the first one committed by his father, said the accused. "In Bohemia, where I was born, he killed his own mother, too. He became estranged at my grandmother, and struck her a vicious blow. For three weeks she suffered and finally died. My father was never punished for that crime."

Attorneys for the defendant told the jury they would make no denials of the charge that the defendant killed his wife, but would seek to prove him insane.

CLEVELAND CHEERED

CHICAGO, October 15.—Ex-President Grover Cleveland was received with lusty cheers by the students of Armour Institute today. He made a speech in which he said:

I am a great stickler for higher education, but I want to tell you this: The opportunities today are greater than ever for boys to get practical education, an industrial education, and I would rather see my own boy grow up able to build a great bridge like the Brooklyn bridge than to receive the highest honor that the people could bestow upon him. I hate to hear persons talk in a pessimistic strain to the effect that the day of opportunity in this country has gone by and that the chances for a young man to rise by his own efforts have passed away. It is not true. There is room at the top, and there always will be.

PLATT MARRIED ON SUNDAY

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Announcement was made today that the marriage of Mrs. Lillian T. Janeway and United States Senator Platt took place at the Holland House on Sunday last.

The Rev. Dr. Burrell performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate members of Mr. Platt's and Mrs. Janeway's families.

The Senator said today that he chose a private ceremony to avoid the crush and annoyance of a public wedding. Senator and Mrs. Platt will leave the city this evening for a short trip.

WHAT SENATOR PERKINS SAW IN EUROPE.

Fine Roads and Women Working on Them—Ideas on Forestry—Tariff Struggle in Britain.

"An extra session of Congress appears certain," said Senator George C. Perkins, who arrived home last night from a four months' jaunt through northern Europe. "I have received no official notification to that effect, but I was informed in New York that the President would call Congress in extra session on the 9th of November. Aside from the Cuban Reciprocity treaty, I do not know what Congress will be asked to consider, though there is talk of currency legislation and the Isthmian canal question being urged for speedy action."

"I scarcely think anything will be accomplished at the extra session. The time is too short for one thing. For another, Congress does not like to be hurried. Besides the Democrats are in a position to block things. The Cuban Reciprocity matter raises a constitutional question as to whether the treaty-making power can ignore the clause of the organic law which provides that all revenue legislation shall originate in the House of Representatives. Congress is very jealous of its prerogatives, and generally speaking, thoughtful men favor the three departments of the government being restricted to their respective spheres."

ROOSEVELT'S EARNESTNESS.

"President Roosevelt's earnestness and honesty are unquestioned, but he will encounter decided opposition if he pushes the reciprocity matter in a way to contravene our National traditions. I regard it as certain that he will be re-nominated and re-elected, and hold him in high esteem, but there is a question in this business that fundamentally affects the constitutional right of Congress to legislate without dictation or invasion of its prerogatives."

"As I said before, everything will be deferred till the regular session, and then no legislation will be formulated and carried through till after the holiday. My twelve years' experience in the Senate has convinced me that Congress cannot be hurried unless there is absolute necessity for it. It can act quickly enough on occasion, as was shown at the opening of the Spanish war. Then Congress laid aside all other business and rushed through bills to give the President money and strengthen his hands for conflict."

SITUATION DIFFERENT NOW.

"But the situation is different now. No crisis confronts the country. We need currency legislation and a measure to promote our shipping interests and the Isthmian Canal calls for speedy settlement. But there is no call for a rush at this particular time. The Cuban treaty waited many months; it will not hurt to wait two or three more. However, I have had no opportunity to discuss matters with my colleagues and am only giving my personal impressions in an offhand way."

THE CANAL QUESTION.

"So far as the Isthmian Canal is concerned I cannot tell what course events will take since Colombia has rejected the Panama treaty. I have always preferred the Nicaragua route for several reasons, although I am willing to vote for any practical project that will give us an inter-oceanic canal without delay. The Nicaragua route will give us quicker communication with the Atlantic seaboard, and it will be available for sailing ships. There is a windless sea off Panama. Sailing ships cannot use that route. This consideration has influenced me as a nautical man, besides, I have always doubted the feasibility of controlling the Chagras river with a dam."

MADE A SWIFT JOURNEY.

"My daughter and I had a pleasant tour though we got around rather rapidly. Since leaving here on the 25th of last June, I have traveled 16,000 miles, taking in Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, Northern Italy, France, Ireland, Scotland and England. I found many things to admire in all those countries, but I came back with a higher appreciation of the glories of our own country and the comforts and blessings our people enjoy than I ever had before. Nowhere do people live so well and so easily as in the United States. In Europe I saw huge military camps guarded by vast bodies of troops, but in the fields and the roads women were everywhere working. Times are rather hard in Europe and many people out of employment. Complaints are heard everywhere of American competition. We pay the best wages but we turn out the best work."

THINGS TO EMULATE.

"Two things struck me as worthy of imitation by our people—the roads and the system of forest conservation. In Germany, Belgium and Switzerland the roads are especially fine, as smooth as a floor and kept in perfect order. France has fine roads, but away from the cities they are not so good as those in Germany."

"I rode a day and a half in the Black Forest, and took occasion to observe the methods of forestry practiced there. No tree can be cut down till a government inspector has given his sanction, and then another tree has to be planted in its place. In Belgium, Switzerland and France the governments are all engaged in conserving and restoring the forests, which are necessary to the preservation of the water courses. Forest conservation is a problem that is forcing itself upon our attention. The Sierra Nevada must be kept timbered to keep the snows from melting and our rivers from drying up in summer. We must preserve the streams for irrigation and for the development of electrical power. Therefore, some comprehensive system of forestry is a supreme necessity with us."

SAILED IN AMERICAN SHIPS.

"I went to Europe and returned in American-built ships. I landed at Antwerp and returned from that port. Being a shipping man myself, I sought a line that would enable me to travel in vessels built in American yards. My observation teaches me that we can build as good ships as can be turned out anywhere, and if our merchant marine is properly encouraged will soon take front rank in the ocean-carrying trade. All we have to do is to promote our shipping interests the way European nations do."

THE SWISS MOUNTAINS.

"The Swiss lakes are beautiful, but no more beautiful than those of California. They are lined with villas and hotels, and encircled by splendid roads, affording every convenience and comfort for the tourist and sightseer, but they have no natural beauty that we cannot match. Tahoe, Donner, Webber, Independence and other lakes in the Sierra are equal to anything the Alps can show, not excepting the famed Lake Como. Mount Blanc is grand, but no grander than Mount Shasta, or Mount Whitney. Nothing in Switzerland or the Tyrol approaches Yosemite. But the difference in improvements adds to the attractions of nature, and to make the scenery accessible to the traveler. The Swiss have turned their mountains and lakes into a source of national wealth."

GLOOMY OUTLOOK IN IRELAND.

"Things are looking badly in Ireland, notwithstanding the passage of the land purchase law. Crops have failed and there is much distress among the peasantry. There has been a crop failure in Scotland and England also. Business is dull and times hard. The high price of cotton has caused many mills to shut down in the Manchester district, and in consequence, thousands of poor people are out of employment. Many of the factory towns are dead. On all sides I heard complaints about American and German competition. The newspaper discussions of the industrial situation have a gloomy tone. I could well believe what they said about American competition, for I saw American goods and American products on sale everywhere. Our manufacturers have a good name across the water. Glasgow struck me as being the best city I saw. It is a busy, thriving city, but even there depression was complained of."

THE TARIFF STRUGGLE.

"Great Britain is in the throes of an exciting tariff campaign, and everywhere free trade versus protection debated vigorously. I think Chamberlain will lose because of the depression and the outcry about the tax on food. Everywhere I saw pictures comparing the free trade loaf with the protection loaf. The former is huge and the latter very small. The free traders are making tremendous capital out of taxing the food of the poor, but we know what nonsense that is by our own experience. When food was cheapest in this country there was the greatest suffering and commercial depression, for the workmen had nothing to do and no money with which to buy what they needed. Cheapness is no advantage to a man who has no work and no wages. Chamberlain proposes a scheme to give the British workmen more work and better wages, but their eyes are fixed on the size of the free trade loaf."

THE ALASKA ARBITRATION.

"While in London I visited the commissioners who were fixing the boundary dispute between Canada and the United States. All of the documentary evidence shows that the present existing lines are the same as those held by Russia prior to the purchase of Alaska by us. I do not believe, were it not for the discovery of gold in the Klondike, that any dispute would have ever arisen. Our only hope is in Lord Alverstone, England's Chief Justice, who is on the commission, and who, I believe, is an able jurist and an honorable man. Without him the commissioners would merely come to a tie vote. I think that he will look at it from a purely legal standpoint and his decision will be just.

"My trip was in a sense educational. I had not visited Europe since I was a lad getting 17 a month, and this time I wanted to see how it looked when I could pay my own fare. I observed conditions closely to satisfy myself in regard to proposed legislation in the United States, and came to the conclusion that our fiscal system is not inferior to that of any other country. I was particularly impressed with what our tariff legislation has done for American workmen, and how the freedom from compulsory military service in this country has stimulated industry. Germany and France have over a million able-bodied young men under arms, while their wives, sisters and mothers are drudging in the fields and factories. In this country these young men would all be at work, making good wages. The women of their families would not be working in the harvest field and on the public roads. It seemed to me as if the women did most of the work in Belgium, Germany, Switzerland and France. And in this country a man would laugh at you if you proposed to make a great national issue over increasing the cost of bread half a cent a loaf."

"My daughter Fanny accompanied me in all my travels till I reached my old home in Maine. Responding to urgent invitations, she remained there for a visit with relatives, while I journeyed on home alone. I am glad to be home, too. There is no place like California. No place where the people are so free-hearted, intelligent and prosperous."

LADIES' NIGHT AT ELKS.

AN EXCELLENT PROGRAM CARRIED OUT AT THE LODGE ROOMS.

The Oakland Lodge of Elks entertained the ladies in the new club rooms last evening, and everything in the power of the members was done to make it comfortable and pleasant for the ladies. They were invited to inspect every nook and corner and make suggestions concerning any improvements, but the ladies had nothing to criticize. They gazed upon the handsome furniture and carpets, easy chairs, magnificent draperies, etc., they were in good luck. The program was carried out and gave two huge songs. Frank Cushman gave several clever imitations. Joseph Rosborough and E. S. Dowdy each gave vocal selections. Mr. Phil Walsh made a brief address. Mr. Owens of Sacramento delighted his audience with a song. Past Exalted Ruler Melvin ordered a song. Past Exalted Ruler and Sheriff Bishop to pass around the charity box, collecting fines from every one. This caused considerable merriment, but the joke was turned on the presiding officer when Chief Hodgkins passed the box to him. At a late hour the guests dispersed, all voting "ladies' night" a great success.

CASE DISMISSED.

Because of defect in the complaint, Judge Samuels this morning dismissed the case against Mrs. Sarah Jacobs, arrested August 3, and charged with purchasing junk from minors, but the action was not taken until after a jury had been impaneled. A special venire was issued to complete the jury and court took a recess until 11 o'clock. Upon reassembling, no return was made upon the venire, which seemed to displease the court and he remarked, "Mr. Bailiff, you may tell the police department that this court does not propose to wait until the police department desires to return the venire. We will proceed without it."

TWO ARE CHOSEN TO ATTEND.

BRICKLAYERS WILL BE REPRESENTED AT CONFERENCE IN LOS ANGELES.

At the monthly meeting of the Bricklayers' Union last night President William J. Bacous and Secretary Andrew Perry were chosen delegates to the conference to be held in Los Angeles the first week in December. Four new members were taken into the union upon presenting their transferring cards, one from Alabama, two from San Francisco and one from Berkeley. A new up-to-date set of by-laws was adopted. The old ones not being able to answer the growing needs of the union.

A special meeting will be held two weeks hence, on October 28, to consider the advisability of establishing a death benefit fund. The question was brought up at the last national convention held in New York. Each local union throughout Canada and the United States has received a letter from the international headquarters asking whether or not the plan was favored by the various unions. The plan is not to have local death benefit funds in each town, but to establish a national fund for all union plumbers in North America.

The referendum number of the national organ of the bricklayers and masons of America was distributed to the members at the meeting.

PLUMBERS.

At the meeting of the Plumbers' Union last night six applications for membership were filed. The quarterly working cards were issued to all members who were not in arrears with their monthly dues.

COOKS AND WAITERS.

The executive board of the Cooks' and Waiters' met yesterday afternoon to consider the organization of Perry Corwell as business agent of the organization. The matter was referred back to the society for action at the next meeting.

LINEMEN.

The linemen met last night and settled up the affairs connected with the recent entertainment and dance given in Germania hall.

The proposition to apply for a local charter was favorably discussed at some length. Every member is at work, and there is enough to do to keep all employed for many months, fixing the "on" on the telephone company's lines.

TEAMSTERS.

The district council of teamsters held a short session last night. Thirteen applications for membership were received. The delegates from the Milk Wagon Drivers' union reported everything progressing smoothly. The representatives of the Retail Delivery Wagon Drivers' union reported a good attendance at the last meeting. Two new members were initiated, the new president, W. A. Thompson, who is very popular, also F. Burkhardt, who was chosen as business agent, everything looking prosperous and better than ever before.

The Material Teamsters reported everything to be in first class condition. From the Bakery Wagon Drivers came a report of a good meeting—two applications for membership being received. Local union No. 79 is booming, according to the reports of the delegates from that union.

CARPENTERS, LOCAL NO. 36.

A regular meeting of the Carpenters' Union, local No. 36, was held at Germania hall last night. One new member was initiated into the union on presentation of his clearance card.

NEWSBOYS.

The office of the secretary of the Newsboys' Union was declared vacant at the regular session, as the incumbent, William Greening, failed to attend the meeting of the organization held at Germania hall last night.

The new monthly working cards were issued. At present the cards are all changed every month. November's will be green. Business Agent Oberlies was instructed to purchase a seal for the union and place the new city seal on reserve fund. It was decided to rent Becker's hall, 635 Washington street, as the weekly meeting place. It was agreed that rooms could be secured at Potrero rather than at Germania hall, as it is hard to find a landlord who will have them.

The bakery and meat and Federated Trades Council will meet tonight in Germania hall. The beer bottlers in the hall are washing and cleaning up the material, plasterers and sewer diggers at the corner of Broadway and Broadway, the longshoremen at California Hall, 1015 Clay street.

AMALGAMATED CARPENTERS.

The Amalgamated Society of Carpenters and Joiners met last night and initiated four candidates. Under the good of the order T. M. Latimer read a paper on the amalgamated society as a factor in an operation and industrialism reviewing the workings of the society from its formation in 1860. It told of the conditions of trade in the British Isles, New Zealand, Australia, Canada and the United States; of the co-operative work-shops it has formed; of the operations of its investments in public works; of the benefits it has paid to members; of the unemployed, the sick, during strikes and lock-outs, for loss of tools, funeral and benevolent grants amounting to $100,000. Vice-President Bruce then rendered some vocal selections that made the evening an enjoyable affair.

LAUNDRY WORKERS' UNION.

At the last session of the Alameda County Laundry Workers' Union, held on Monday night, October 12, eleven workers in the craft were initiated and seven applications for membership placed on file. The financial reports and the reports of such members as were present, were encouraging character. Four hundred and twenty-five members are in good standing. The annual session of the international in the city of San Francisco in 1904 is looked forward to with great interest by this Union. The hall to take place at Germania hall on Saturday, October 17, is already an assured success, owing in part to the enormous sale of tickets and to the interest manifested by every member.

WILL REDUCE FORCE.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 15.—The Treasury authorities in Washington have issued orders suspending the coinage of Philippine pesos at the local branch of the Mint because of the rapid advance in the price of silver. The cost of coining 3,000,000 pesos was $50,000 more in September than in August. From two to four million ounces are used at the Mint each day and hence the recent increase of the price of silver has become a matter of considerable importance from a financial standpoint. The suspending of the coinage of the pesos will mean the reduction of the force of employees.

TOOLS STOLEN.

Fred Anderson of 4330 Telegraph avenue reported to the police today that a lot of carpenter's tools valued at about $15 were stolen from a house in course of construction at the northwest corner of Edward and Divisadero streets.

AMUSEMENTS.

On Saturday evening the theater-goers of Oakland will have another opportunity of seeing Hall Cline's great novel, "The Christian," played at the Macdonough Theater. It will be here for only one evening and will have a strong cast. "The Christian" is considered one of the strongest and best plays on the stage at the present time. It is a comedy dramatized from the novel by this author himself.

"MR. JOLLY" COMING.

On Sunday and Monday evenings the rollicking musical and farcical play, "Mr. Jolly of Joliet," will be presented at the Macdonough Theater. It is a comedy pure and simple and ranks with such well-known productions as "Audolph and Adolph," "Are You a Mason?" and others. Edward Garret, who plays the title role, is considered one of the best comedians in the profession.

THE WHITE MAN'S COUNTRY.

"A white man's country" is a phrase with a very elastic meaning. It may mean a country adapted to the wants and characteristics of white men, or a land that white men claim to own and the right to rule. Unfortunately, the white man claims for himself the exclusive right to interpret the phrase as his convenience and interest may direct. In all cases the white man, so far from being content to remain in his own land and rule it, has insisted upon taking and ruling the land of the yellow man, the black man and the red man. The white people have continuously claimed superior prerogatives over people of other complexions, and they have never failed to support that claim by force of arms.

We have an instance of it now in the Philippines. A circular recently issued by the American Board of Trade of Manila asserts that a large part of the Americans now in the islands will return if the policy of "the Philippines for the Philippines" is continued. Governor Taft is denounced for preferring Philippines to white men in office, and is seeking to develop the country rather than to promote American trade interests in the islands. Evidently the Manila American Board of Trade believes the Philippines should be a white man's country, but are not. They are not a good place for the growth and propagation of the white race, but they furnish an excellent field for members of the white race to operate in—provided they are governed on the theory that the white man's interests are to be served first of all things.

Governor Taft proceeded on the theory that the Philippines should be governed in the interests of the inhabitants, whether they be white, yellow or black. His successor, General Wright, has pursued the same course. Hence the strident protest from the devoted band of promoters in Manila, who believe in the fine old Viking doctrine that the stronger should take from the weaker. Naturally men who believe that the dark races were created to minister to the wants of the white race regard a government of the Philippines for the Philippines as a sort of treason. In their eyes it is "rank perfidy," as Degeberry would say. In the language of the immortal Flannagan, they ask, "What are we here for?" If the Philippines are not to be governed—misgoverned—rather for the profit of Americans, what do we want with them?

This clash of opposing purposes and ideas inevitably brings the country face to face with an issue, that is not new, save in the latitude and conditions under which it confronts us. We have had the same issue in different aspects in regard to the Indians and the negroes. As a rule the judgment has gone in favor of the white man. The Indian and the negro have invariably got the worst of it, and the prospect is not bright for the situation to mend so far as it concerns them. How will it fare with the seven millions of yellow men we have annexed in the tropics over against Asia? The irresistible logic of events, discarding constitution and statutes, has decreed that this is a white man's country—that is to say, the white man will rule it and do as he pleases in it, whatever others may think or do. There are others, of course—some millions of them—but they are only "niggers," "Injuns," Chinamen, etc. According to the popular idea they are not Americans. They are not white.

The Philippines for the Filipinos is somewhat of an innovation in our practice, and it is not strange that the policy should excite surprise and dissatisfaction even. It is not the law that the trade borders of Manila object to, but the manner of its enforcement. They look back to the States and see what we have made negroes and whites equal in the letter of the law, but they note that the negro's face is put in the sand for all that. "The negro is all right, if he keeps his place"—which is the cottonfield or the servant's quarters. That is the prevailing sentiment in this great free white man's republic of ours. Why should an exception be made of the brown runts down in the tropics? That is what the trade boarders down in Manila can't make out. Their idea of benevolent assimilation is to take everything in sight, and make the natives go out and work for more. Evidently the Philippine commission has failed to appreciate the situation. Taft and Wright clearly do not understand that they represent a white man's country and are ruling a brown man's habitation for the benefit of white men, who know what they are there for. Somebody ought to put the Commissioners on to their job.

Even so astute a politician as Senator Platt must be inconvenienced by having two strings to his amatory bow. By the way he is rather an odd bear to stand the strain of two strings.

A GOOD SUGGESTION.

A Oakland merchant, who recently paid a business visit to Los Angeles, says a valuable object lesson could be taught if 500 representative men of Oakland could be taken on an excursion to the metropolis of Southern California and given a few days' stay there. He says Oakland has a finer climate and better prospects for a permanent future, but that its inhabitants lack the push, energy, enthusiasm and cohesion that distinguish the wide-awake people of Los Angeles. Down there they hustle and work together for the common good. They are not afraid of high taxes, or of incurring a big bonded debt. What-over they want they get regardless of cost. Everybody has a hammer out for the knocker.

Los Angeles has a splendid courthouse. The city hall is a noble edifice, worthy of a great and progressive city. The municipality owns an extensive park system. It has issued $200,000 of bonds to erect a polytechnic school. When they want a sewer system in the city issues bonds. If a general improvement of the streets is desired more bonds are issued. When parks are needed there is another bond issue. The city hall was built with bonds. Every public improvement Los Angeles has was made by issuing bonds.

What is the result? Tall buildings are going up everywhere. Business is lively and the real estate market active. The city is growing with marvellous rapidity, and the hotels are crowded all the time. Los Angeles has a suburban railway system that will soon eclipse anything of the kind in the United States. Los Angeles jobbers are selling goods all over Arizona and northern Mexico. They are competing with San Francisco wholesalers in the San Joaquin valley. This is enterprise. It is the spirit that builds great cities. We must take our hats off to it, for it is the genius of progress. If Oakland had followed the example of Los Angeles ten years ago, this city would now have 150,000 inhabitants, and its harbor would be sheltering twice the shipping now to be found there. We have relied too much on our natural advantages and too little on our own efforts. We have waited for others to come and do what we should have done ourselves. We have shirked taxes and put off improvements. Above all, we have been cheerful workers in the gentle pastime of knowing, disparaging and discouraging others. The people of Los Angeles work with each other for their town, and they pull together in encouraging enterprise and investment. We have no doubt that our leading citizens would gather a few wholesome ideas if they would take a week off and spend the time in the atmosphere of Los Angeles. If they only bring back a little of the spirit that has built and beautified that city a big bit will be given to Oakland enterprise.

Barnum Alverstone has felt constrained to assure the Canadians that he has expressed the belief that the United States had made out the stronger case in the Alaska boundary arbitration. The cabinet report that the president of the arbitration court had so declared himself was taken very seriously in Canada, where the eminent jurist was sharply criticised for living out his conclusions before the case was submitted. On its face the story was improbable. It was altogether unreasonable that the president of the court would have committed the impropriety of expressing his opinions in advance of the court's decision. The story probably grew out of the compliment Lord Alverstone paid one of the American counsel at the close of his speech, or was inspired by the tenor of certain questions asked by his lordship during the course of the argument. We are not so certain that the United States will win in the boundary dispute, for the Canadian commissioners are dead set on way. They are advocates and partisans, and not judges. If Lord Alverstone sides with them, it is all up with the American case. Of course the correspondents in London haven't the slightest inkling of how he will decide.

The editor of the Fresno Democrat thanks those who showed themselves to be friends of the paper during the trial of its $75,000 libel suit. That's all right, but did he set up wine or beer for the jurymen who stood out for his defense?

The colored man in San Francisco who shot his wife for a burglar probably thought she was breaking into some of his arrangements.

Professor Langley's flying machine may yet achieve success as an excavator.

The non-union barber who beat his wife and confiscated her earnings seems to be a scamp all right. In his case the term is luminously descriptive.

SWEEPING BACK THE OCEAN.

Lord Brassey has evidently not made a close study of Canadian trade movement during recent years, or he would not express the opinion, as he did, that a preferential tariff could arrest the slipping of Canada's trade away from Great Britain. Canada now has a tariff that especially favors Great Britain yet each year the volume of her trade with the United States increases. The Dominion buys more goods from the United States than any other country, and she sells this country an increased proportion of her products. Yet Canada and the United States both have protective tariffs. The preferential given the mother country is impotent to hold the Canadian market for British goods.

There is no mystery about this. The goods manufactured in the United States are better adapted to the wants of the Canadian people than British made goods. Better razors are made in New Britain, Connecticut, than in Sheffield. In the Dominion our saws, chisels, axes and table cutlery give better satisfaction than similar articles imported from England. It is the same with a multitude of articles. At the same time proximity, the intersecting railway system and the blending of financial and industrial interests are bringing the Dominion and the Republic into closer commercial union. The bulk of Canada's population is strung out along the American border. A number of her larger cities are situated on the great lakes, and have cheap and quick water communication with cities on the American side. Joseph Chamberlain can no more break up the natural trade that has resulted from a combination of interests and geographical conditions than he can fly.

Lord Brassey thinks taxing grain from the United States $2 a ton will multiply the influence American immigration is having on the Canadian Northwest. The idea is nonsensical. Winnipeg's chief trade connections are with Chicago. Those connections cannot be broken off, because the people of the Red River Valley would no more permit them to be broken off than would the merchants of Chicago. Trade is not a matter of sentiment or politics. It is responsive to interest and conditions. No preference that Great Britain can give to Canadian grain, meats and dairy products will induce the Canadian people to buy British manufactures when they can get American manufactures which suit them better at less cost.

Colonel Watterson apparently imbibed his idea of the habits of the gray wolves in Congress from reading the yarns of Uncle Remus.

The Earl of Roseberry hit the nail on the head when he said Joseph Chamberlain is the controlling spirit of the British cabinet. Developments clearly indicate that Chamberlain's retirement from the colonial office was a mere device to mislead the public. His influence in the government is as potent as ever it was—perhaps even more overmastering than it was before he sprung the tariff issue. His race has not availed, however, for events have been more powerful in giving shape and scope to the issue than the machinations of politicians. Roseberry's stand for free trade and the announcement that the Duke of Devonshire will oppose the imposition of taxes on food indicate that conservative elements of the British public are settling down in opposition to Balfour, and Chamberlain's forked-tongued attack on the fiscal system established by Peel and Cobden.

THE CASE.

I'm suing in the court of love To win a maiden's hand, And Cupid has subpoenaed me, So I must take the stand.

I witness that she kissed me once And let herself be kissed, The jury brings its verdict in And asks the case dismissed.

The judge decides that as a fine Another kiss will do, You see the fair defendant is The judge and jury, too.

Surely the tombstone does present A paradoxical case; For it may stand erect and straight, And yet lie on its face!

THINKS HE'S FOUND EMMET'S TOMB.

NEW YORK, October 15.—Dr. Thos. Addis Emmet of this city believes he has solved the mystery of the burial place of Robert Emmet, his great uncle, the Irish patriot, who was put to death by the English for high treason, at Dublin, September 20, 1803. He has just returned from Ireland after three months spent in running down rumors as to the patriot's tomb and the search finally was narrowed down to St. Peter's churchyard, Dublin, in the Emmet family tomb.

When an edict prohibiting burials in Dublin was issued in 1840 the headstones and tomb covers in St. Peter's were taken up and the surface covered with a thick layer of cement. The stones were replaced promiscuously, merely indicating that the bodies they commemorated, lay somewhere in the churchyard. Objections of families whose ancestors are buried there prevented Dr. Emmet from excavating.

NEWS FROM BERKELEY AND THE STATE UNIVERSITY

WOULD PRESERVE FORESTS.

MARDEN MANSON OF SAN FRANCISCO BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS MAKE ADDRESS.

BERKELEY, October 15.—The civil engineering students of the university were addressed last night by Marden Manson of the San Francisco Board of Public Works. The topic of the discussion was forestry upon which the speaker gave many original thoughts for the solution of the forestry question.

Mr. Manson opened his lecture by stating that the preservation of the forests is necessary for maintaining and insuring the water supply of the country. He told of places in Europe that had been rendered barren by the destruction of trees.

In referring to the problem confronting California, the speaker suggested that the state should take the initiative in the preservation of the forests, and that the power to gather seeds and to extend the forest to barren areas.

Mr. Manson then turned to the question of "Concentration of all means and forces on well organized and sustained lines of work only can accomplish this. These forces are the national government, the state, the county and the private individuals. The forces of the state can be used in connection with the College of Agriculture."

"Proper administration will restore and extend our decreasing timber and pasture areas, and turn them into the heritage of poverty and degradation which is the patrimony of any people who permit the destruction of their mountain forests and pastures."

"But this work will not accomplish itself without system. Every scattered effort, every separate line of action, must be concentrated in systematic and sustained work along definite lines. It is the duty of every citizen, who has the ability and will, to contribute to this concentration of energy along effective lines."

LIVELY FIRE IN COLLEGE TOWN.

BERKELEY, October 15.—A lively fire which threatened the entire Morgan block at the northwest corner of Shattuck avenue and Center street, broke out this afternoon about 4 o'clock in the cannery factory of W. C. Morgan. The flames, started by Bernard Kurian lighting a match in the vicinity of a leading gas pipe, while the latter was working, quickly succeeded in extinguishing the burning wood work, they encountered considerable trouble in subduing the flames. The property damage will amount to several hundred dollars, which is partially covered by insurance.

MANUAL TRAINING SYSTEM TO BE INSPECTED.

Ladies Will at Once Take Steps to Inaugurate the Work in the Schools of Berkeley.

BERKELEY, Oct. 15.—The general committee appointed to introduce manual training in the public schools, met last night at the residence of Judge George W. Haight, 2680 Telegraph avenue, and decided to inaugurate immediate plans for the establishment of experimental classes in the McKinley School. A number of public spirited women who were at the meeting decided to go to San Francisco for the purpose of studying the manual training system in vogue in the public schools of that city. They will be conducted about by J. M. Doyle, supervisor of manual training in the San Francisco public schools, who is a member of the committee seeking to introduce the system here.

Among the ladies who have volunteered to inspect the system in San Francisco are Mrs. George W. Haight, Mrs. Dr. Allen, Mrs. Albert Carlisle, and Mrs. A. G. Freeman.

To interest the citizens in the project of making manual training a part of the school curriculum, it was decided to hold a number of meetings about the city that the subject may be fully presented. Each member of the committee will at once begin a canvass for collecting the money that will be needed to start the first classes.

It is the present intention of the committee to secure rooms at the McKinley School. Two teachers will be engaged, beginning next term, one to give instruction in manual training and he other in domestic industries. If the experiment proves successful during the first term, the Board of Education will be asked to make the work general in the entire department.

UNIVERSITY MEN ON FORESTRY.

BERKELEY, October 15.—President Wheeler and Professor Bernard Moses of the University of California took an active part in the meeting of the Commonwealth Club of California, held last night at the Palace Hotel for the purpose of forestry and irrigation subjects.

President Wheeler discussed the proposed forest reserves in Northern California and described the hostility that has been aroused against them—a hostility of the policy that the Government intends to follow in making the reserves a perpetual source of timber supply for the people of the State. The speakers emphasized the need of as early development of a business policy in handling the reserves by which the Government might reap a large revenue from its reserves and the lumbermen be given the right to purchase and cut trees as they mature. The meeting was referred to the Section on Commercial Interests for consideration and action. H. Weinstein presided.

Professor Moses of the University of California and late of the Philippine Commission, gave an account of the measures taken to preserve and make useful the forests of the Philippines, and informed the club that the commission had adopted the policy that has been urged by practical foresters upon the Government of the United States, retaining all forested lands in possession of the Government, and selling the ripe timber as it matures to lumbermen and timber buyers.

The following was the order of speakers and the sides they debated: S. H. Bosch, affirmative; G. J. Ringolsky, negative; P. M. Carey, affirmative; R. O. Moyer, negative; R. W. Henderson, affirmative; G. C. White, negative; P. Mandel, negative; E. B. Merrill, affirmative; J. H. Turner, negative.

BONFIRE MAY HARM GREEK THEATER.

It is Believed That Damage May Result From Blaze to be Kindled at Tonight's Rally.

BERKELEY, October 15.—Such a huge pile of wood has been collected for the bonfire to be lighted during the Freshman football rally in the Greek theater tonight that the fear has been expressed that the intense heat bound to result may crack the handsome cement wall at the back of the stage. The cement has not had time to dry and it is now believed that should all the wood be lighted at one time some of the moulded ornaments if not the wall itself, may be seriously affected by the heat.

When the Freshmen, as members of their military companies, set about to systematically collect inflammable material for the traditional fire, it was the intention to have the blaze reach higher than any of its predecessors. More wood has certainly been gathered than ever before and piled to a greater height.

This morning's Californian calls attention to the imminent danger of injuring the theater, in the following terms:

"Will the first rally held in the Greek Theater also be the last? The rally committee have undertaken not a little responsibility in attempting to hold a bonfire in the structure. The possibility of serious harm may be estimated by taking care that too much wood is not thrown on the fire. Under the direction of Professor C. L. Cory, are lights have been installed in and about the theater. It is expected that a large crowd will be in attendance and a unique and interesting program has been arranged for the occasion."

The speakers for the evening will be Professor George C. Edwards, Professor Frank Soule, Trainer Walter Christman, Samuel Stowe, Milton Schwartz and L. Baldwin.

The University band will be present and copies of the University songs will be distributed among the collegians.

JUDSON EMPLOYEES AT EMERYVILLE PREFER ELECTRICITY TO STEAM.

EMERYVILLE, October 15.—An investigation into the state of affairs at the Judson plant just now shows that the installation of electricity to supplant steam will please none more than the employees themselves. This is due to the fact that the men are in a position to be much less than it is at the present time. Instead of a network of stoking and belts there will be a motor for each machine. Considered from the standpoint of the same machinist says: "The practical workmen will welcome the electrically-driven machine because he can better study and understand the work which he is doing."

The transforming house has been finished over a week, and the management is now awaiting the installation of transformers in the Oakland Canal, Light and Heating Company's station, to begin operations. Stated one of the officials of the plant: "Continuing, he said: 'We will first make change in the machine shops. Afterwards electricity will supplant steam in the rolling mills also.'"

He said: "If there would be no strike unless such a call was made. In other words, it is up to the miners to call a strike. If they do, it will be by order of National President, and it will be called a strike. It will be by order of National President, and it will be called a strike. It will be by order of National President, and it will be called a strike."

SAN LEANDRO MEN TO INCREASE ITS MEMBERSHIP.

JUDGE AT HAYWARDS GIVES THEM THIRTY DAYS IN JAIL.

SAN LEANDRO, October 15.—James P. Brennan and John Woods have been sentenced by Judge Frowce of Haywards to serve thirty days each in the county jail for disturbing the Catholic fair. They pleaded hard for mercy, but the court considered that the pair ought to be taught a lesson, so he sent them up. They recently came to California, one from Michigan. Since coming here one has been employed as a cook at the county infirmary and the other was there some weeks for treatment. As soon as they left the infirmary they went to Haywards and got into trouble.

ELMHURST TRIBE OF RED MEN TO TAKE IN PALE FACES.

ELMHURST, October 15.—At the last meeting of Comanche Tribe, Improved Order of Red Men, held Tuesday evening, it was decided to start at once a short but vigorous membership campaign. It will be a combined effort to all the members of the lodge. At present there are over forty members of the order in Elmhurst, and it is proposed to enable the membership in the next month.

The "Indians" plan to take in between forty and fifty pale faces some time in November.

The by-laws of the organization have been amended so that only the families of members who have paid the dues up to date will receive the $15 death benefit in case that member dies. Formerly if he were three months behind with his assessments his family would not get the money. They would receive $30 if he were six months in arrears. Now they will get nothing unless the member is paid up to date.
